Laparoscopic Sleeve Gastrectomy:

A Bridge to Transplant for Patients with LVAD

Justin Hsu MD, Sarah Weiner MD, Timothy Farrell MD FACS University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, NC

- BMI ≤ 35 is a relative contraindication for heart transplant
- Preoperative:
 - Cardiology/Heart Failure Team evaluation, admission and transition off Warfarin to Heparin drip bridging
- Postoperative:
 - Fluid management and oral tolerance/anticoagulation management
- Meta-Analysis by Challapalli et al.
 - 59 patients in 8 studies
 - 12.7 months follow up
 - Mean BMI 33.4 kg/m² compared with mean preoperative BMI 46.7 kg/m²
 - 66% listed for trasnsplant
 - 33% transplanted

Challapalli, J., Maynes, E.J., O'Malley, T.J. et al. Sleeve Gastrectomy in Patients with Continuous-Flow Left Ventricular Assist Devices: a Systematic Review and Meta-Analysis. OBES SURG 30, 4437–4445 (2020).

THE UNIVERSITY of NORTH CAROLINA

at CHAPEL HILL

